

Effective Teaching

The task of teaching has changed completely within the last decade. It's no longer about passing on encyclopedic information - the instructor has become the learning consultant, strategist and motivator. The learners become progressively autonomous. The art of teaching and learning has changed dramatically.

We will prepare you for your new role! systemicslean™Teaching will assist you in your new teaching tasks. We will demonstrate you and practice with you new methods of knowledge transfer and teaching tools. They will enable learners to accumulate knowledge independently.

In our systemicslean™Teaching workshops, we will guide and support you:

- to lead learners to independent learning,
- to help them overcome physical/psychological learning "slumps",
- to teach them learning strategies for effective self-learning,
- to identify and strengthen learners' strengths,
- to eliminate/reduce weaknesses and improve learners' self-confidence,
- to implement teaching models for self-regulated learning.

Learn to empower learners to conquer and organize their own knowledge acquisition. Learn how to make yourself dispensable as a teacher!

systemicslean™Teaching consists of three fixed training units of five hours apiece, followed by a 12 week implementation phase, during which we will accompany your questions and themes with supportive knowledge and feedback.

*A good teacher has only one worry:
to teach how to get along without him!*
